The Rantings of a Mac Man

I just watched an old, old movie called "The Third Man". Joseph Cotton's character arrives in West Berlin and discovers that his friend is dead. As he asks questions and investigates the accident, he finds out that his friend is still alive and hiding out. His friend has been stealing penicillin from hospitals, diluting it and then selling it to those in need. The military police want Joseph Cotton to help them bring his friend to justice but he refuses at first. He changes his mind when they take him to the children's ward at the hospital. He sees many children that had meningitis and had hope of getting well but could not because their penicillin was diluted. Seeing the suffering children changes his mind. I thought it very coincidental that I saw this movie while many around us are falling ill from the flu. My dear wife has suffered all week with it and has been about as sick as I have ever seen her. When she called her school to say she had the flu, they told her that several teachers had it along with gobs of students. Sickness is horrible but a reality of our world. I think that is why so many of Jesus' and the apostle's miracles involved healing.

There is a terrible sickness all around us and it is not the flu. It is not a sickness of the body but of the soul. This sickness is what we call sin. We know what it is like because we have all had it. But because of our faith and obedience to the gospel of Christ we have found a cure. It is not that it never touches us but the blood of Christ continually cleanses us, if we walk in the light. People around us need the cure for their sin desperately even if they don't know it. Their, as well as our, only hope is Jesus Christ. Do we see those around us as truly lost and in need of Jesus? Do we offer him as the cure for what can heal their hearts and souls or do we keep our mouths shut and hope they will stumble upon the cure by themselves? Share the cure!
