LONG BEACH CHURCH OF CHRIST

The Rantings of a Mac Man

There are times when I am studying the Bible that a strange idea or two will pop into my head. It rarely has anything to do with the context of the verse and is totally off the wall. I know that, at times, I have subjected some of you to that nonsense. I am also sure that some of you are thinking "Yeah we are used to your silliness, McCorkle". Recently I was reading about Barnabas being referred to as the "son of encouragement". At that my mind jumped the track and ran to... (here it goes)... was there a daughter of encouragement? Was his wife the daughter-in-law of encouragement? While I am considering that, what about nephews, nieces or even cousins of encouragement? (Sorry) Really wouldn't it be nice to be referred to as any relative of encouragement?

In our society encouragement may be an art that is slipping away. Research has shown that people are much happier in their job if they feel appreciated and encouraged more than for whatever salary they have. Yet many workers go home feeling un-encouraged and even demeaned at times. If there is any time there should be words and expressions of encouragement should be shared, it is when we are with the body of Christ. There are people who have slid in and out of church and not been encouraged and I will admit that there are times that the one sliding was me. It is tough sometimes to catch those people in order to give them encouragement. Perhaps that is where some of our efforts need to be doubled. But also let's not forget Brother or Sister So-and-so who we have seen a thousand times but are secretly holding something in that they need an encouraging word to help with. So let's 1) encourage each other in our relationship with the Lord 2) encourage each other in our use of a His Word 3) encourage each other to express and feel the joy of the Lord and 4) encourage each other by listening.

So now "Cousins of Encouragement" let us go forth and encourage.
